Fire Dispatcher Series Salary Proposal

We respectfully request that the Fire Dispatcher series within the Fire-Rescue Department be considered for a Special Salary adjustment based on the retention issues that continue to plague the Emergency Command and Data Center, specifically in the Fire Dispatch Supervisor classification.

The core staff of the Emergency Command and Data Center, Fire Dispatchers are responsible for answering telephone and radio communications for Fire & Medical incidents for the cities of San Diego, Poway, Chula Vista, National City, Imperial Beach and Coronado. A recent Citygate report highlights the sheer magnitude of incidents handled by the Emergency Command and Data Center respective to the three other agencies that are tasked with the same responsibilities within the county. (ATTACHMENT A)

Those other agencies responsible for Fire & Medical incidents for the remainder of San Diego county are also paid at a significantly higher rate than the Fire Dispatch series. E-step Fire Dispatchers in San Diego are compensated at an hourly rate of $26.83. NorthComm Dispatchers are compensated 17% more at a top step of $31.45 (ATTACHMENT B), Heartland Fire JPA 15% more at a top step of $30.83 (ATTACHMENT C), and Cal-Fire 18% more at a top step of $31.72 (ATTACHMENT D). These three centers can also offer a pension to their newhire personnel.

The Emergency Command and Data Center utilized APCO International "Project Retains" for a clearer understanding of appropriately staffing their dispatch center to handle the volume of 9-1-1 calls for service they receive on a yearly basis. APCO, which is nationally recognized, advised that the minimum staffing for the center should always be 12. Presently because of its inability to retain trained and qualified personnel, the Emergency Command and Data Center struggles to maintain staffing of 8 dispatchers at all times, and routinely resorts to incredible numbers of mandatory overtime hours just to maintain the largest Fire-Dispatch center in the county at skeleton levels. (ATTACHMENT E)

The request is made in response to the increasing high turnover rate within the classification, and the resulting inability to remain competitive with other similar jurisdictions in the retention of dispatchers. Loss of qualified and experienced dispatchers and our inability to hire and retain qualified candidates has been extremely challenging. It has been very inefficient and a waste of our resources to spend countless hours to recruit and train staff only to see them leave to other jurisdictions for higher pay and superior benefits.

The inability to move beyond skeleton staffing levels, which includes dropping lower than even minimum staffing, all while providing services to over 2 million citizens, is a direct result of this inability to establish any competitiveness in salary.

As a result of the recent trends of staff turnover due to candidates/staff finding better paying jobs elsewhere, we are constantly recruiting; requiring job posting, conducting interviews, reference checks, background/medical clearance, and thereafter training only to repeat this process over again.

In the Citywide Human Capital Fact Book, prepared by the Office of the City Auditor, it is shown that Dispatcher 1 had the highest "Turnover Rate" in the entire City of San Diego with 12 of the 20 separations coming from the Fire-Rescue Department; turnover that, with other classifications, cost the City roughly $39M in 2017 (ATTACHMENT F). The entry level classification that feeds directly into the Fire-Dispatcher classification is Dispatcher 1. However now that compensation levels have lagged so far behind the rest of the county the turnover rate in the Fire-Dispatcher classification has increased significantly over the last two years.

In FY18 the Emergency Command and Data Center lost 12 personnel, 5 of which listed better pay as their reason for separation:

The Fire Dispatch Supervisor classification, of which there are 7 budgeted, losing two personnel due to higher pay is a 28% reduction in staff in less than two years to outside employment. Couple these losses with the total losses over the last five years and the numbers are staggering.

Scally	Rebecca	Dispatcher I	Resigned, better pay	4/11/2016

The Fire Dispatcher series is controversial due to the nature at which Personnel evaluates classifications. The classifications of Dispatcher I and Dispatcher II feed into the Fire Dispatcher and Police Dispatcher Series. While they are by a technicality not "part of that series", when faced with the difficulty of the job and the horizon of less pay for equal work compared to their counterparts in other agencies, frequently employees who would promote out of their training class into the Fire Dispatcher series leave due to better pay elsewhere.

All Dispatcher positions are budgeted at Fire Dispatcher or Police Dispatcher positions as those are the classifications needed to be filled at the end of training. In the Fire-Rescue Department there is no change in duties between that of a Dispatcher I, Dispatcher II or Fire Dispatcher. All roles and functions remain the same.

This is significant to note for two specific reasons. The first being that the evaluation of the Dispatcher I & II classifications will be taken out of context for the overall retention issues in the Emergency Command & Data Center as the retention issues for Dispatcher I & II's specific to the Fire-Rescue Department will be altered by the Police Department. Secondly, understanding that the Dispatcher I & II classifications that are training to attain Fire Dispatcher status should be included with overall Fire Dispatcher retention is key.

In 2017 and 2018 (wherein these losses in FTE were accumulated), staffing for Fire Dispatchers topped at 43 budgeted FTE. Over that time period, 20 personnel left at an approximately 50% turnover ratio. Note, there were no retirements in those years. This is total attrition. While the Emergency Command and Data Center continues to pull from the Dispatcher 1 eligible list, they continue to bleed personnel with an average retention from training classes hovering at 25% (the last recruited class has retained 2 of 8 personnel).

An increase of 25% overall, would not only help to retain qualified and trained staff but it would help draw highly qualified and talented applicants. Aiding in retention of employees who express liking their job but needing an increase in compensation in order to maintain the increasing costs of living in the City of San Diego. (ATTACHMENT G)

Due to these varied factors, a comprehensive classification study would be invaluable for our department to assess the findings and consider all possible options for enhancing our retention efforts.

SECTION 5-MERGER ASSESSMENT

5.1 PRESENT MERGER OPPORTUNITIES

5.1.1 Preface

The overall term of "mergers" can have as many meanings as there are reactions by the people involved in the discussion. A merger project for public safety dispatch operations can be something as simple as implementing equipment capable of sharing functionality, to co-locating in a single facility but yet maintaining autonomous operations and workforces. It can also be everything from contracting services to the full implementation of a new governmental unit to provide all pieces of the public safety dispatch package. Merger projects are generally conceived to either achieve financial or operational advantages, or both. The success or failure of a cooperative merger of any type will depend upon a developed plan and support for the plan, along with adequate funding and implementation. It may also depend upon the will and belief of the political leadership present before, during, and after the project.

Coronado Fire Department was added in July of 2016.

Using figures in the above tables, handling all of the incidents from these agencies in a single center it would take approximately 33 consoles (utilizing a national standard practice of attributing one console per 10,000 incidents). Again, using a nationally recognized average figure for required floor space for these consoles, a single facility would need approximately 4,950 square feet (33 consoles multiplied by 150 square feet per console). In addition, there would be additional floor space needed for offices, training, management, Quality Assurance, and technical support personnel plus breakrooms, storage, equipment, etc.

Of course, not all of the above agencies desire to merge into one single entity.

^{} Due to the Countywide footprint of coverage and responsibilities of CAL FIRE and its contract agencies, no estimate of population served was found.

San Diego Fire Communications - Estimate Staffing For Coverage Positions

Directions: Staffing for coverage positions is based on the number of tasks or work stations that must be covered and the number of hours each position must be covered. Below, "Positions" is the number of seats where this organizational job task is done.

How is this calculated?

Click on Position for Analysis ...

San Diego Fire Communications - Determine Net Available Work Hours (NAWH)

Directions: These tables summarize employee availability to handle call taking and dispatch functions in the center. This is similar to a shift relief factor but it is based on hours. This adjustment is appropriate for coverage and volume-influenced positions only. Calculate Net Available Work Hours (NAWH) using average allocated time or average actual time for each category. Use the "Other" column to adjust for time off that may be unique to your center, Round all calculations to the nearest whole number. The result is the average availability for each person in that position.

Note: The numbers you enter should be the average per person for each position.

Which classifications have had the most turnover?

Throughout 2015–2017, separations from the City in terms of sheer numbers have been dominated by classifications within the San Diego Police Department (SDPD). However, this is because SDPD has a large workforce. The turnover rate is actually significantly higher among many other classifications throughout the City.

Exhibit 15. Annual Separations Rate ("Turnover Rate") and Total City Separations, 2015–2017 Classifications with the Highest Turnover Rates and Classifications with the Highest Total Number of Separations

*Dispatcher 1 separations were from multiple departments: 12 from the Fire-Rescue Department, 5 from the Transportation & Storm Water Department, and 3 from SDPD over the period of 2015–2017.

Sources: OCA, based on separation data provided by the Personnel Department and City workforce counts in SAP.

⁹ Note that turnover rates are average annual turnover rates over the period 2015–2017. Auditors made some judgmental exclusions from the turnover percentage data; e.g., classifications needed at least 10 separations over the period to be included. Auditors also did not include some classifications with higher expected rates of turnover such as Management Interns, Pool Guards, Police and Fire Recruits, etc.

Section 3: Retention and Separations

What does turnover cost the City?

Estimates of true turnover costs can vary widely depending on the nature of the position and quality of the departing worker, expected new workers, etc. Using a rough estimate of replacement costs, the cost to the City of recent voluntary employee turnover may be around $39 million annually.¹⁰

Additional "soft costs"—such as impact to team morale, disruption to continuity of service, loss of institutional knowledge, etc.—can exist as well.

$39M

Potential cost of voluntary employee turnover to the City in 2017

$8.3M

Potential annual cost savings from decreasing the City's voluntary turnover rate by 1%

Sources: OCA, based on review of literature related to turnover costs, City workforce data within SAP, separations data provided by the Personnel Department, and Adopted Budgets.

¹⁰ Auditors utilized a voluntary turnover cost model developed by Deloitte with City-specific information regarding the size of the workforce, voluntary turnover rate, City revenues, and personnel expenditures per employee to produce the estimates above. We supplemented that estimate with a less rigorous rule of thumb of 6-9 months of an employee's salary and wages, which produced a figure of around $24 million annually. We note a range of debate of true costs and estimation with both models and in other literature on turnover costs.

To Whom It May Concern:

I write this letter as a former Fire Dispatcher of the San Diego Fire-Rescue Department from 2012 to 2017, who resigned from employment with the City of San Diego to accept a significantly higher paying Fire Dispatcher position with Cal Fire — San Diego.

I can confidently say, without unwavering opinion, that in my 17 years as an Emergency Services Dispatcher, working for San Diego Fire-Rescue was the one department I was most honored and proud to be a part of. Despite the low staffing levels, long shifts with mandatory overtime, and the highest call volume of all fire dispatch agencies in the county, the dedication and professionalism that I witnessed amongst my peers superseded that of any communications center I have been employed with over the duration of my dispatching career. It is well known that the San Diego Fire-Rescue Dispatchers are truly top notch in this industry, going above and beyond for both the residents they serve and other allied agencies within San Diego county.

My decision to resign from San Diego Fire-Rescue for a higher paying position was a very tough one to make and created a lot of internal conflict. For as happy and satisfied as I was professionally, as a single income family, I had an urgent need for a higher earning potential and Cal Fire — San Diego could offer me that. Unfortunately, San Diego Fire-Rescue is the lowest paying Fire Dispatch agency in San Diego County. A top step Fire Dispatcher will earn a considerably higher salary at North Comm, Heartland, and Cal Fire — San Diego. A department's pay scale is one of the top competitive factors when hiring and retaining quality employees.

The San Diego Fire-Rescue Dispatchers with longevity are worth their weight in gold. It is so incredibly important to develop and foster relations with seasoned Dispatchers and hold onto those who have years and years of experience and knowledge about the cities they dispatch for and the functions of the department. If the City of San Diego Fire Dispatcher's pay was comparable to that of the other three Fire Dispatching agencies in San Diego County, I am confident that I would still be employed as a San Diego Fire-Rescue Dispatcher and have a very long and rewarding career with the department.

Thank you,

Rochelle Rosa

To Whom It May Concern,

My name is Ben Jackson, and I am currently employed by the Orange County Fire Authority. Prior to my employment here, I was a Dispatcher for the San Diego Fire-Rescue Department. While employed there, I was very happy with my job and contributions to the department. I enjoyed my work "family" and the environment.

It was difficult, however, to earn enough to support my family with my earnings from SDFD. The pay is much lower than other dispatch agencies, even those that are less busy and smaller. I eventually left SDFD for OCFA primarily for financial reasons. Upon being hired at the OCFA, a slightly larger organization but with a lower call volume, I began earning significantly more as a brand-new employee than I had as a 3 year employee at SDFD.

I believe that the dispatchers at SDFD deserve better wages. I think that it would improve morale, and more importantly retention.

To whom it may concern,

My name is Michelle Geiger. I worked for San Diego Fire for 7 years. Although, I enjoyed working for San Diego fire I was offered a position with another agency that offered higher pay and better benefits. I accepted the offer in November 2018. I am thankful for the time I had at San Diego fire, and the experience I gained.

Respectfully, Michelle Geiger
